President's Message

Doug Hart

Kia Ora.

A warm welcome to everyone as we move into the wintry season. This month sees the start of our new membership fees, which have increased for the first time in years. The OAS, like the majority of organisations, needs the revenue to continue delivering a first class facility to display your art and bring benefits to members. There's always a lot of action and planning behind the scenes to put exhibitions on, which include the 145th Annual and Edinburgh Realty Premier Art Awards.

In March 2022 we are participating in the Fringe Festival and in addition launching a show in one of our galleries entitled 'Master Copy'. The Corish Foundation, led by Elizabeth and Barbara Corish, will be funding the awards for this exciting new venture. The whole idea is based around the need for artists to hone and add to their skills by copying a masterpiece from the Renaissance through to the Rococo period. Centuries ago, artists were taught painting skills and techniques by going to galleries and copying a particular artist's work.

This 'copying' was particularly important in the case of Renaissance women artists such as Sofonisba Anguissola and Artemisia Gentileschi, who were forbidden to join life drawing classes. More details on this competition will emerge in October and the artist to copy will be 'unwrapped'.

In August, it's our AGM. You, our loyal members, are an integral part of our society. Please renew your membership promptly and enjoy entering your artwork. If you would like to be a part of our hardworking team, then please get in touch.

Kind regards,
Doug

Critique session from 6.00-7.00pm, prior to each month's members' meeting.

Artists in any medium and of any experience wishing to gain feedback about their work are encouraged to bring something along. This will be a supportive, helpful forum, where you can get advice or suggestions.

*Facilitated by Lorna Allan

Participation invitation: Join in with an informal art group each Thursday in the Hope Gallery at OAS. Bring your lunch and something to work on (in any medium). Skill-sharing and conversation – get to know some of your fellow members.

Please Offer Your Skills

The OAS Annual General Meeting will be held in August. Doug Hart will be ending his 3-year term as President, leaving a gap at the top for our next leader. Who will it be? Please consider stepping up as a member of the OAS council – an infusion of fresh energy and ideas, and commitment to help carry them out, will take us into a successful future. Finance, funding, promotion, IT – what skills could you contribute? Nomination forms are available at the office.

Susan Marbrow fills out a new member application form with OAS vice president Annie Pepers.
